Bake for the Animals

Date and Time: Sunday, March 1 08:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m.

Event Location: Kitchener Waterloo Humane Society

Bake for the Animals is a Fundraising effort for The Humane Society of Kitchener Waterloo and Stratford Perth. Simply bake your favorite treats, sell them and donate the funds to the animals.

Bake for the Animals was born from a love of baked goods and fluffy animals (because who doesn't love both!). In the past we celebrated everything cupcake, and now we are broadening our horizons. Why? Well because we felt a little guilty of leaving our friends cookie, brownie and donut out of the mix. Cake and pie were also feeling a little glum. So in 2020 we're turning over a new spoon and saying "ALL SWEETS NOW WELCOME!". That's right, we don't discriminate.

Register for the Centre of your choice - the Stratford Perth Humane Society or the Kitchener Waterloo Humane Society - and create your online bakery. Want to register as a team? No problem! You can register your team page, as well as your personal online bakery page. Once you're registered, you'll receive a host kit in the mail with lots of fun party planning materials. You can also download extra party goods from our downloadable resources!

So bust out your best baking skills and whip up a treat or two in support of our furry friends at the Humane Society of Kitchener Waterloo & Stratford Perth. We can't WAIT to see what you creative cookers come up with!

And wait, there's more, if you want to get a jump start, raise $150 by 12:00 pm on Friday, February 7th and get entered into a draw to win a Blendtec Classic 575 Blender!

Event Location: 550 King Street North, Inside Conestoga Mall, Waterloo, ON

A Taste of Science is an interactive exhibition that engages all your senses. The exhibition will highlight the role science plays in delaying food decay and keeping food nutritious and safe for us to eat. This bilingual exhibition is suitable for all ages and offers menu items for both the mind and the imagination.

The development of food preservation methods is almost as old as human civilization itself. Every country and culture across the world has adopted a way of food preservation, which the museum will explore, demonstrating some of the methods still practiced today.

Children and adults can immerse themselves in an oversize pantry, learn different food preservation techniques, discover what makes food spoil, and for the courageous you can even smell different types of food that have spoiled.

This bilingual exhibition is suitable for all ages and offers menu items for both the mind and the imagination.

The development of food preservation methods is almost as old as human civilization itself. Every country and culture across the world has adopted a way of food preservation, which the museum will explore, demonstrating some of the methods still practiced today.

Children and adults can immerse themselves in an oversize pantry, learn different food preservation techniques, discover what makes food spoil, and for the courageous you can even smell different types of food that have spoiled.

The UpStart Festival is a one-act play festival produced by the Theatre and Performance program. All three plays are new works supported by faculty and staff and are written, directed, designed, performed, and led by students, alumni, and visiting artists. The three plays that make up the festival are:

Things We Lost in the Aftermath written by Alexis Joy Nagum and directed by Mira J. Henderson. Something irrevocably changed one night at a cabin by the lake for Zac and his friends. Though Zac’s memory of that night is fragmented, he knows his childhood friend Marni is the key to a clean resolution. Unbeknownst to him, the tensions that remain unresolved and unspoken in the friend group hinge upon the secret she holds. Driven by the need to solve this conflict, the two uncover more to their group than they expected. Pent-up aggression, jealousies, and so many secrets all come to a head on one depressing memory of that night. In the aftermath of losing our friends, what do we do with these feelings we still have and is anyone ever right to inflict those emotions on each other?

Bitter/Sweet Fools written by Joanna Cleary and directed by Monica Durlak. Set on the last night of Elizabeth I’s reign, Bitter/Sweet Fools follows a family struggling to forgive each other for the memories they share of a tragic accident. When Agnes visits Tom, her mentally and physically disabled son outcasted from society because of the part he played in his younger sister Elizabeth’s death, she is prepared to make a decision from which she won’t be able to recover. However, her resolve begins to waver as Tom earnestly insists he is looking after the ghost of his sister. Love and shame take turns outweighing one another while the ghost of Elizabeth, chasing a mystical sun, weaves in and out of her past. As all three characters slowly come together to tell the story of their disjointed family, their identities are shaped in ways that will forever alter them.

All Art is Quite Useless with book, music, and lyrics by Gaya Bin Noon & Cameron Slipp, directed by Michael Klein, and musical direction by Peter de Sousa. Based on the original 1890 edition of Oscar Wilde’s The Picture of Dorian Gray, this new musical explores the first published version of a text that was later significantly edited to remove passages deemed “indecent” in nature. The story focuses on the relationship between Basil Hallward, a society painter, and a young aristocrat named Dorian Gray. When Basil presents Dorian with a painting he has created of him, Dorian despairs that the portrait will stay the same as he ages, and enters into a Faustian bargain to preserve his youth. Basil’s struggle parallels Wilde’s own personal struggle that ended in his arrest, after a series of trials where the first edition of The Picture of Dorian Gray was used against him in court.

With three new plays exploring the potent themes of self-identity, forgiveness, and loss, created and staged by some of the region’s most exciting emerging artists, the UpStart 20 Festival is certain to be an unforgettable evening of theatre.

UpStart 20

Date and Time: Friday, March 20 07:30 p.m. - 10:00 p.m.
Event Location: 200 University Avenue West, Waterloo Theatre of the Arts, Modern Languages Building

The UpStart Festival is a one-act play festival produced by the Theatre and Performance program. All three plays are new works supported by faculty and staff and are written, directed, designed, performed, and led by students, alumni, and visiting artists. The three plays that make up the festival are:

Things We Lost in the Aftermath written by Alexis Joy Nagum and directed by Mira J. Henderson. Something irrevocably changed one night at a cabin by the lake for Zac and his friends. Though Zac's memory of that night is fragmented, he knows his childhood friend Marni is the key to a clean resolution. Unbeknownst to him, the tensions that remain unresolved and unspoken in the friend group hinge upon the secret she holds. Driven by the need to solve this conflict, the two uncover more to their group than they expected. Pent-up aggression, jealousies, and so many secrets all come to a head on one depressing memory of that night. In the aftermath of losing our friends, what do we do with these feelings we still have and is anyone ever right to inflict those emotions on each other?

Bitter/Sweet Fools written by Joanna Cleary and directed by Monica Durlak. Set on the last night of Elizabeth I's reign, Bitter/Sweet Fools follows a family struggling to forgive each other for the memories they share of a tragic accident. When Agnes visits Tom, her mentally and physically disabled son outcasted from society because of the part he played in his younger sister Elizabeth's death, she is prepared to make a decision from which she won't be able to recover. However, her resolve begins to waver as Tom earnestly insists he is looking after the ghost of his sister. Love and shame take turns outweighing one another while the ghost of Elizabeth, chasing a mystical sun, weaves in and out of her past. As all three characters slowly come together to tell the story of their disjointed family, their identities are shaped in ways that will forever alter them.

All Art is Quite Useless with book, music, and lyrics by Gaya Bin Noon & Cameron Slipp, directed by Michael Klein, and musical direction by Peter de Sousa. Based on the original 1890 edition of Oscar Wilde’s The Picture of Dorian Gray, this new musical explores the first published version of a text that was later significantly edited to remove passages deemed “indecent” in nature. The story focuses on the relationship between Basil Hallward, a society painter, and a young aristocrat named Dorian Gray. When Basil presents Dorian with a painting he has created of him, Dorian despairs that the portrait will stay the same as he ages, and enters into a Faustian bargain to preserve his youth. Basil’s struggle parallels Wilde’s own personal struggle that ended in his arrest, after a series of trials where the first edition of The Picture of Dorian Gray was used against him in court.
With three new plays exploring the potent themes of self-identity, forgiveness, and loss, created and staged by some of the region's most exciting emerging artists, the UpStart 20 Festival is certain to be an unforgettable evening of theatre.

Event Location: 9 Princess St. E. Waterloo, ON

A Detective Dickson history meets mystery play.

The year is 1891. When the Joseph E. The race is on when the Seagrams hire Aloysius Stout, an ambitious, young private detective from Toronto, who challenges and taunts Dickson at every twist and turn.

If this is not enough, Dickson also has to contend with his ever-precocious niece, Miss Isabel Bruce who is bent on being a detective like her favourite uncle.

All this and a mysterious race horse incident that stretches from Seagram's stables at Bratton House to the royal mews of the Queen of England. It's Stout versus Dickson in a race where wits and deductive reasoning are pushed to the limits.
