City and community events

Monday, July 1, 2024

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Monday, July 1 10:00 am - 4:00 pm
Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farml and turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

July 1 Community Picnic

Date and Time: Monday, July 1 4:00 pm - 10:00 pm

Spend the afternoon on the west side of Waterloo Park with friends and neighbours for live music, local food trucks, an art market, giant games and more! The event runs from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. with a spectacular drone light show to end off the night.

Please note the Waterloo Park Westmount Rd entrance will be closed this day to public vehicles. Attendees are encouraged to find other methods of transportation or park in one of the nearby lots.

More details about the July 1 Community Picnic: https://www.waterloo.ca/.../july-1-community-picnic.aspx

Tuesday, July 2, 2024
Royal City Soccer Club - Day Camps

Date and Time: Tuesday, July 2 8:30 am - 4:30 pm

Address: 158 Bridgeport Rd E, Waterloo ON, N2J 2K4

The Royal City Soccer Club, a registered non-profit community organization, is proud to host their 32nd annual grassroots summer day camps. The program is designed to promote personal development, team building and of course, FUN! Uniquely designed to offer a more soccer focused morning with a leisure swim with other organized activities in the afternoon. The program operates during all weeks in July and August for children aged 5 to 13. For more information or to register, visit royalsoccer.com or call 1-800-427-0536.

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Tuesday, July 2 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmlands turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!
Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmlands turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Wednesday, July 3, 2024

City of Waterloo summer registration

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 3 8:00 am - 11:00 pm

Address: City of Waterloo recreation facilities

The ActiveWaterloo Guide is now available on our website (downloadable pdf) or view programs on ActiveWaterloo. Sign up for our seasonal email subscription reminder and never miss a registration date!

What’s NEW this summer?

- Variety of child and youth art programs
- CAN-BIKE cycling safety courses
- Kids fitness games
- Little’s Yoga (age 4-6 with caregiver)
- Adult restorative art
- Returning! Sugar cookie decorating
- 40+ summer fitness programs
- Sewing, mending and maker workshops
- Weekly or daily indoor and outdoor swim lessons

City program registration opens June 6 (active living) and June 20 (swim) for summer. Note: CARL sport leagues now registering.

Be sure to register early as spots can go quickly. Add your favourite programs to the ActiveWaterloo Wish List in advance, and then add to cart quickly and easily on registration day.

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 3 10:00 am - 4:00 pm
The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo’s remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 3 10:00 am - 4:00 pm
Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Thursday, July 4, 2024
Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Thursday, July 4 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!
rloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Wat erloo in a different way – from above!

Friday, July 5, 2024

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Friday, July 5 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our gr owing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the dec ades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo’s remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farml and turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up c ores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has b een located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by mem bers of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Wate rloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Wat erloo in a different way – from above!

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Friday, July 5 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our gr owing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the dec ades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farml and turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up c ores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has b
Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Saturday, July 6, 2024

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Saturday, July 6 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farms and turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Saturday, July 6 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farms and turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.
Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Sunday, July 7, 2024

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Sunday, July 7 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Seeking Home: The Story of Early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Sunday, July 7 10:00 am - 3:00 pm
Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.

Monday, July 8, 2024

Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Monday, July 8 10:00 am - 3:00 pm

Address: Log House in Waterloo Park, Waterloo, ON

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Monday, July 8 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo’s remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farms and turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Tuesday, July 9, 2024
Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Tuesday, July 9 10:00 am - 4:00 pm
Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmlands turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Tuesday, July 9 10:00 am - 3:00 pm
Address: Log House in Waterloo Park, Waterloo, ON

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Tuesday, July 9 10:00 am - 4:00 pm
Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmlands turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!
and turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Wednesday, July 10, 2024

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 10 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 10 10:00 am - 3:00 pm

Address: Log House in Waterloo Park, Waterloo, ON

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City o
Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 10 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmlands turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Campfire

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 10 6:00 pm - 8:00 pm

Address: Waterloo Public Square (75 King St S.)

Bring a blanket or your favourite hoodie and head uptown! Gather around the campfire in Waterloo Public Square with friends and neighbours for local music, games, and more. Happening on select Wednesdays throughout May to August from 6 to 8 P.M.

- May 8
- May 22
- June 5
- June 19
- July 10
- July 24
- August 7
- August 28

Follow Create Waterloo on social media for event announcements and updates, including any cancellations due to weather.
Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Thursday, July 11 10:00 am - 3:00 pm

Address: Log House in Waterloo Park, Waterloo, ON

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Thursday, July 11 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!
Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Movies in the Park

Date and Time: Thursday, July 11 8:30 pm - 11:00 pm

Address: Waterloo Park Bandshell (100 Westmount Rd N)

Hosted in Waterloo Park near the Bandshell, bring a blanket and watch movies on the big outdoor screen! Movies begin at sundown. Movie titles to be announced.

- June 13
- June 27
- July 11 *
- July 25 *
- August 8 *
- August 15 *

Movie nights marked with an asterisk * are brought to you in partnership with Princess Cinemas and The Beat Goes On, and in support of the Waterloo Region Food Bank. If possible, please consider bringing a non-perishable food item to donate on these dates.

Follow Create Waterloo on social media for event announcements and updates, including cancellations due to weather.

Friday, July 12, 2024

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Friday, July 12 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the dec
Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

---

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Friday, July 12 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

---

Saturday, July 13, 2024

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change
The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Momma's Cookout & Music Festival

Date and Time: Saturday, July 13 1:00 pm - 10:30 pm

Address: Gaukel Block | 44Gaukel Street | Kitchener ON

Food x Culture x Family x Diversity x Community x Music x Vibes

Momma’s Cookout & Music Festival is a vibrant celebration of Black food, culture, and community, blending delicious flavors, diverse sounds, and infectious vibes. Featuring artists, entertainers, and vendors from the Waterloo region and beyond, it's a unique fusion of music, culinary delights, and cultural immersion.

Sunday, July 14, 2024

Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Sunday, July 14 10:00 am - 3:05 pm

Address: Log House in Waterloo Park

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.
Monday, July 15, 2024

Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Monday, July 15 10:00 am - 3:05 pm
Address: Log House in Waterloo Park

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.

Tuesday, July 16, 2024

Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Tuesday, July 16 10:00 am - 3:05 pm
Address: Log House in Waterloo Park

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Tuesday, July 16 10:00 am - 4:00 pm
Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s growth.
rloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Tuesday, July 16 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Tuesday, July 16 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.
The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Wednesday, July 17, 2024

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 17 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!
Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 17 10:00 am - 3:05 pm

Address: Log House in Waterloo Park

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.

Logosophy: Transforming the world starting from yourself

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 17 5:15 pm - 6:00 pm

Address: Waterloo Public Library - Main - 35 Albert St, Waterloo, ON N2L 5E2

This open lecture series introduces the know-how and experimental method that Logosophy offers to enable anyone to gradually and consciously improve themselves. The speaker, Gustavo Tondello, presents practical recommendations and examples from his experiences practicing the logosophical method for self-improvement for over 20 years. The talks will explore how each individual can contribute to improving society, starting with one self and contributing to the evolution of others.

Topics

May 15: How can I consciously improve myself?

June 12: The mental and sensitive systems - The base for the individual and collective transformation

July 17: Ethical principles in human relationships - Learning with each other

August 14: The process of conscious evolution - The great human opportunity

< FREE ADMISSION >

Please make sure to RSVP at logosophy.org/waterloo2024 to receive a reminder a few days before the event.
Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Thursday, July 18 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmlands turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!
The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change.”

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo’s remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!
Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Saturday, July 20, 2024

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Saturday, July 20 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Saturday, July 20 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.
Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo’s remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmlands turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Sunday, July 21, 2024

Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Sunday, July 21 10:00 am - 3:05 pm

Address: Log House in Waterloo Park

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.

KW Flamenco Fest

Date and Time: Sunday, July 21 1:30 pm - 3:45 pm

Address: 122 Frederick Street

An envigorating flamenco spectacle with live musicians and flamenco dancers.

Monday, July 22, 2024

Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Monday, July 22 10:00 am - 3:05 pm

Address: Log House in Waterloo Park

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.
Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Tuesday, July 23 10:00 am - 3:05 pm

Address: Log House in Waterloo Park

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Tuesday, July 23 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!
Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farms turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Wednesday, July 24, 2024

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 24 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farms turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 24 10:00 am - 4:00 pm
The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 24 10:00 am - 3:05 pm

Address: Log House in Waterloo Park

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.

Campfire

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 24 6:00 pm - 8:00 pm

Address: Waterloo Public Square (75 King St S.)

Bring a blanket or your favourite hoodie and head uptown! Gather around the campfire in Waterloo Public Square with friends and neighbours for local music, games, and more. Happening on select Wednesdays throughout May to August from 6 to 8 P.M.

- May 8
- May 22
- June 5
- June 19
- July 10
- July 24
- August 7
- August 28
Follow Create Waterloo on social media for event announcements and updates, including any cancellations due to weather.

Thursday, July 25, 2024

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Thursday, July 25 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo’s remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmlands turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Thursday, July 25 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmlands turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.
Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Movies in the Park

Date and Time: Thursday, July 25 8:30 pm - 11:00 pm

Address: Waterloo Park Bandshell (100 Westmount Rd N)

Hosted in Waterloo Park near the Bandshell, bring a blanket and watch movies on the big outdoor screen! Movies begin at sundown. Movie titles to be announced.

- June 13
- June 27
- July 11 *
- July 25 *
- August 8 *
- August 15 *

Movie nights marked with an asterisk * are brought to you in partnership with Princess Cinemas and The Beat Goes On, and in support of the Waterloo Region Food Bank. If possible, please consider bringing a non-perishable food item to donate on these dates.

Follow Create Waterloo on social media for event announcements and updates, including cancellations due to weather.

Friday, July 26, 2024

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Friday, July 26 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has b...
Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Friday, July 26 10:00 am - 4:00 pm
Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Art Market

Date and Time: Friday, July 26 5:00 pm - 9:00 pm
Address: Waterloo Public Square (75 King St S.)

Art Market features artists, crafters, and makers from Waterloo and surrounding area selling outside at Waterloo Public Square.

The market runs 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. with live music from 7 to 9 p.m.

- May 31 (AND Waterloo Public Square Celebration with special guests speaking at 6:30 p.m.)
- July 26
- August 30
Saturday, July 27, 2024

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Saturday, July 27 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmlands turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Saturday, July 27 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmlands turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.
Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Sunday, July 28, 2024

Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Sunday, July 28 10:00 am - 3:05 pm

Address: Log House in Waterloo Park

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.

Monday, July 29, 2024

Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Monday, July 29 10:00 am - 3:05 pm

Address: Log House in Waterloo Park

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.

Tuesday, July 30, 2024

Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Tuesday, July 30 10:00 am - 3:05 pm

Address: Log House in Waterloo Park

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.
The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!
Wednesday, July 31, 2024

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 31 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 31 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird’s eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change”.

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.
Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo’s recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people’s choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo’s first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo’s earliest aerial images and video footage. “Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change” tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

Seeking Home: The story of early Black Settler Levi Carroll

Date and Time: Wednesday, July 31 10:00 am - 3:05 pm

Address: Log House in Waterloo Park

Immerse yourself in the story of Levi Carroll this summer at the Log House in Waterloo Park. This exhibit, curated by local historian and researcher Peggy Piet, is presented in collaboration with the Arts Fund and the City of Waterloo Museum.

https://events.waterloo.ca