Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Friday, November 1 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird's eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition "Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change".

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo's recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people's choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo's first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo's earliest aerial images and video footage. ## Waterloo From Above: 200 Years of Change

Date and Time: Tuesday, November 19 10:00 am - 4:00 pm

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird's eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition "Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change".

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo's recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people's choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo's first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo's earliest aerial images and video footage. "Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change" tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Do not miss your chance to explore Waterloo in a different way – from above!

KWLT Presents Romeo and Juliet: a cyberpunk story

Date and Time: Friday, November 22 8:00 pm - 11:00 pm

Address: 9 Princess Street East Waterloo, ON N2J 2H4

Even in the gritty, neon-drenched sprawl of the future, parents are still struggling to control their impulsive teenagers. Two star-crossed lovers, trapped between warring corporate dynasties, risk it all with the help of a Holy AI in their desperate bid to escape this dystopia.

Set against the backdrop of gray streets, flickering neon signs, and the hum of cybernetic implants, this high-voltage rendition of Romeo & Juliet will immerse you in a world where every choice is a glitch in the system, and every kiss could be their last.

Prepare for an adrenaline-charged experience as romance collides with rebellion in a flash of powered swords and fashion that screams punk anarchy.

With the Holy AI pulling strings from the shadows, the question isn't just whether love will conquer all—it's whether anyone can survive the coming storm.

The Friday November 29 performance is a designated COVID Cautious performance with extra precautions. Patrons will be required to wear a mask at all times while in the theatre, and asked to consume concessions outside. There is also a lower audience capacity for this performance to allow for distancing. There will be no alcohol sales on this evening.

Audience advisory: This performance contains flashing lights and images, violence in the form of intense swordplay and brawling, simulated gunfire, death (ribbon-style blood). There are also strong themes of emotional and domestic abuse, and character suicide.

About Music For Mental Health Canada

Starting during the pandemic, when mental health for people all over the world was at an all time low, and music events and shows were all cancelled... we realized the power music and live music events have to heal. Music For Mental Health Canada was founded by a young musician who started playing live shows for in the park behind her house during the pandemic for neighbours to hear. It grew to online, and built awareness for the cause with hundreds of thousands of views. Rock the Halls in Waterloo, ON was the first large project where 8 local bands all filmed live performances with the support of local sound and video crews (and strict safety protocols). The pre-recorded online concert earned over $5000 in donations for the Canadian Mental Health Association. Music For Mental Health have run many smaller live and online shows featuring extraordinary talent and raising money and awareness for mental health in Canada. ### About Canada's 9-8-8

People across Canada can call and text 9-8-8, a new three-digit service, for help when they need it most. The service offers trauma-informed and culturally affirming support to anyone who is thinking of suicide, or who is worried about someone they know.

About CAMH

Address: 550 King Street North

The Town of Waterloo was a mere 12 square kilometers in 1876. Today, the City of Waterloo covers 64 square kilometers, with the initial boundaries no longer visible. Striking changes to the landscape tell the tale of our growing city over time. The City of Waterloo Museum invites you to take a bird's eye view flight through the decades in our new exhibition "Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change".

Historic maps, aerial images and photographs have recorded Waterloo's remarkable transformation throughout the decades, from early indigenous communities to our present-day vibrant neighbourhoods. Follow how farmland turned into houses, and manufacturing hubs transformed into globally recognized think-tank and start-up cores. Discover the story of Black freedom seeker, Levi Carroll and his family who lived in a building that has been located in both Waterloo and Berlin (Kitchener), but served two very different purposes.

Check out fun LEGO creations of some of Waterloo's recognizable heritage and iconic buildings built by members of our community. Visitors will be able to cast a ballot for the people's choice award, with a prize awarded for the top model. Uncover the story of Waterloo's first airport and the role it played in capturing some of Waterloo's earliest aerial images and video footage. "Waterloo from Above: 200 Years of Change" tells the story in pictures how our human impact and urbanization has changed the city. Even in the gritty, neon-drenched sprawl of the future, parents are still struggling to control their impulsive teenagers. Two star-crossed lovers, trapped between warring corporate dynasties, risk it all with the help of a Holy AI in their desperate bid to escape this dystopia.

Set against the backdrop of gray streets, flickering neon signs, and the hum of cybernetic implants, this high-voltage rendition of Romeo & Juliet will immerse you in a world where every choice is a glitch in the system, and every kiss could be their last.

Prepare for an adrenaline-charged experience as romance collides with rebellion in a flash of powered swords and fashion that screams punk anarchy.

With the Holy AI pulling strings from the shadows, the question isn't just whether love will conquer all—it's whether anyone can survive the coming storm.

Patrons will be required to wear a mask at all times while in the theatre, and asked to consume concessions outside.
